

Gamania Group announced to pull out of 2020 Taipei Game Show

Gamania group today announced to pull out of 2020 Taipei Game Show and stop all works in progress and related marketing activities due to the ongoing outbreak of the coronavirus. Considering mass gatherings like Taipei Game Show increase the chance of cluster infections, the company has decided to steer away from such unthinkable risks.

We're sorry to withdraw from the event. Gamania group will find another time to bring more activities to players after the epidemic is resolved.